Preparation

- Divide children into groups. Seat each group down in a line, with a large space in front of them.
- Provide each group with an overview of the different parts of the human face and which senses are associated with each part.
- Provide the group with a Face Team Build Activity Sheet, highlighting the items in the key and what each symbol represents.
- Ensure each team has the correct equipment to make the face displayed on their 'Face Team Build Example Activity Sheet'. Place this equipment around 10 meters in front of each team

Instructions

- The first child from each team runs out to their set of equipment and brings back one item. When they have returned, the next team member runs out and collects a piece of equipment.
- When all the items have been retrieved, the team must work together to recreate the image on their example sheet.
- When this is complete, encourage the groups to discuss which part of the face is represented by which piece of equipment and use the labels provided.
- As each example sheet has a different face to recreate, when they have finished one face, the groups can move along the line to try a new challenge.

Other information

- Extra challenge can be introduced to this activity by adding additional incorrect equipment, that is not required to complete the face.
